telephone number, and said MS telephone number;

selecting said message at said MS;

calling from said MS said inbound telephone number attached to said selected

message;

identifying said inbound telephone number of said call;

identifying said MS telephone number of said call; and identifying said message associated with said inbound telephone number and said MS telephone number, thereby identifying said message selection made at said

MS.

8. (Once Amended) A method for outputting an underlying message based on the identification of an associated message, the method comprising the steps of:

creating an associated message identifying an underlying message;

uniquely associating an inbound telephone number with said associated

message;

attaching said inbound telephone number to said associated message;

sending said associated message and said attached inbound telephone number to an MS using an MS telephone number associated with said MS;

maintaining a unique association between said underlying message, said inbound telephone number, and said MS telephone number;

selecting said associated message at said MS;

calling from said MS said inbound telephone number attached to said selected

message;

identifying said inbound telephone number of said call;

identifying said MS telephone number of said call;

identifying said underlying message associated with said inbound telephone

2

'APPLICANTS: LE⬤; Guy et al.
SERIAL NO.:   09/448,180
FILED: November 24, 1999
Page 3

number and said MS telephone number; and outputting said underlying message.

Attached hereto is a marked-up version of the changes made by the current amendment. The attached pages are captioned "Version with Markings to Show Changes Made".